TUXIS JUNIORS LAUD REGINA'S HOSPITALITY

Regina, its citizens and its sport boosters will continue for many years to bring back memories of a very pleasant nature to the fertile minds of the youthful members of the Blairmore Tuxis Junior hockey team. The trip of these young champions of Alberta to the sister province in quest of more hockey honors has been one which all true lovers of sport would consider unfinished were not some record made of the hospitality rendered to these boys on their first trip to Saskatchewan.

Leaving Blairmore at the end of an extremely strenuous week of hockey, these boys reached the Capital City in a more or less exhausted condition; but the rest, attention and accommodation received from mine host "Wen Champ" at the Hotel Champlain soon made the boys forget their weariness. The team and party were met at the station by several representative citizens and were soon assured that their stay in Regina would be of a pleasant nature, win or lose.

Early on Monday morning, Mr. J. W. Hamilton, president of the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey Association, gave the boys his assurance that the association he represented would make every endeavor to make the visitors' stay in the city as pleasant and interesting as possible, and in this respect, no hockey team could truthfully say that a more pleasant time was had than the few days our boys spent in Regina.

An early workout to take away the train stiffness was offered by Mr. Uffland on behalf of the Exhibition Board, and at the conclusion of this workout, the boys were invited to sit in at luncheon with the members of the Rotary Club. Mr. H. Knight, president of the Regina Rotarians, gave the boys a hearty welcome to the city and introduced them all to the members present through Mr. Young. An auto trip to the principal points of the city and visits to the Parliament Buildings and Normal School Museum was afterwards arranged by Mr. William Bird, cars being provided by several coal agents in Regina.

On Tuesday, Mr. Hamilton again came to the boys' assistance and arranged through the Y.M.C.A., for the boys to take a swim in the pool, which was certainly enjoyed by all. A very pleasant luncheon hour was spent at the Kitchener Hotel as the guests of the Kiwanis. After the usual introduction through President J. J. Smith, a programme of speeches and singing was enjoyed by the party. Mr. Pete Egan, of the Capitol Theatre, Regina, and an old acquaintance of the boys, having mixed with them on the baseball field in the city of Calgary, extended more hospitality to the party by extending an open invitation to visit the Capitol Theatre any time while in the city. This invitation was accepted and an enjoyable time spent at the show. The "pro" hockey tilt between Saskatoon and Regina provided the party with a thrilling entertainment on Tuesday evening, when tickets for the game were provided by the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey Association, again through the kind efforts of Mr. Hamilton.

Wednesday noon, the party was entertained to luncheon by Dr. Stapleford. The customary introductions were made, and the college students responded with three lusty cheers for their Alberta visitors. An interesting trip was then made through the various rooms of the college. On Wednesday afternoon, the boys were the guests of Mr. William Bird at the Grand Theatre, where the party thoroughly enjoyed the comedy, "Love 'em and Leave 'em."

While the Blairmore boys were not successful in their games with the Regina Pats, nothing but pleasant memories will remain in the minds of those who took part in the trip, not

COLEMAN GARAGE, LIMITED TO BUILD MODERN GARAGE

Contractor J. S. D'Appolonia started this week to break ground on the west side of Mayfair Avenue, almost opposite the Coleman Crystal Rink building, for what will be one of the largest and most modern garages in the Crow's Nest Pass.

The building when completed will have a frontage on Mayfair Avenue of 50 feet and will extend back along the lane for 120 feet. The material to be used is tile and concrete with a stucco finish and the plans call for a very attractive and imposing front. The interior will provide a very pleasing office and show room, large storage space for cars and a repair department, equipped with all the very latest machinery which will assure up-to-the-minute service 24 hours in the day.

This splendid new garage will handle exclusively Ford products, and will be operated by the Coleman Garage, Limited, A. M. Morrison, president of the company. The garage now being operated by this company on Main Street, will continue operations after the new garage opens and will be headquarters for McLaughlin Buick and Pontiac cars and accessories.

The new building is expected to be ready for occupancy about the first or second week in May.—Coleman Journal.

Mrs. J. Wolstenholme, of Blairmore, is still serving an unexpired term as grand trustee.

In the degree competition, Harmony Temple, of Drumheller, were successful in winning the Black Cup in competition against the previous holders, Maple Leaf Temple, of Calgary.

One single item of an unpleasant nature occurred from the time the boys left home until the C.P.R. landed them safely back again at Blairmore, but, with a group of youngsters of this nature, many wonderful stories of the fine treatment received while in Regina are going around, and whether or not Blairmore ever visits Regina again, either in quest of hockey or baseball honors, it can safely be said that Regina will forever remain in the minds of those who took part in the trip just ended, as the one place in the west where any sport aggregation can be assured of a splendid reception. Every credit is due to the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey Association for the very kindly feeling extended to the members of a sister organization.—W.H.C.

Don't forget the whist drive and dance in the Lodge Hall on Wednesday night next, March 23rd, which is being put on by the members of Crowview Rebekah Lodge. The usual good prizes, refreshments and music. Everybody welcome.

The Bascom Mail remarks: Twenty-nine American students have recently committed suicide, most of them because of failure in their studies. This confirms the suspicion that there are really some students who go to university to study.

Almon Ready for Task
France May Bring Ashes of Napoleon's Son to Paris
The French imagination has been fired by the proposal to bring the ashes of the little "King of Rome"—Napoleon's son—from Vienna to Paris, to rest beside the tomb of Napoleon under the great dome of the Invalides.

If a decision is reached in answer to the national demand aroused by the proposal of General Maréchal, commandant of the Invalides, 20,000 of France's greatest almon are ready to bring the remains to Paris.

Clifford Harmon's organization, the little flyers, known as "Violettes," hail the idea, and have named Pelletier Dohy, hero of the Paris-Tokyo flight, and Sadi Lécroix, hero of innumerable air exploits, for the task.

According to information from Vienna, Austria's Republican government will not hinder the removal of the ashes of the "Duke of Reichstadt," leaving the matter entirely in the hands of the Hapsburgs.

Saskatchewan Man Used Dodd's Kidney Pills With Great Success

Mr. N. Zilan Was Relieved of His Trouble After Taking Short Course of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Laventure, Sask. (Special) — "I want to tell you just what your Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for me," writes M. N. Zilan, a resident of this place. "I had terrible headaches and could not sleep. After taking two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I commenced to feel fine. I cannot praise this kidney medicine enough and would not be without it in my home."

Persistent headaches and sleeplessness can usually be attributed to a run down and exhausted condition. Other symptoms such as irritability, tired languid feelings; depression and loss of energy are also the outcome of this condition. It is therefore necessary that you take a few weeks treatment of Dodd's Kidney Pills to restore vitality and generally tune up the nervous system.

"Burglary Was Unusual"
An unusual burglary took place in England recently, when thieves broke into the surgery of H. Chopin, an Hford dentist. They made a selection of 7,000 front and back teeth, and then one of them, comfortably ensconced in the operating chair, proceeded to sort them out, putting aside for removal those which were gold plated. The rejected dentures were scattered all over the floor.

THE CHRISTIAN'S HOPE

Golden Text: In my father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you; for I go to prepare a place for you—John 14:2.
Lesson: John 14:1-13; 1 Corinthians 5:1-10; 1 John 2:2, 3.
Devotional Reading: Revelation 21:1-7.

Explanations and Comments

1. The Promise of Christ, John 14:1-3.—"Let not your heart trouble; believe in God, believe also in Me."
"Twas the Master himself who said it.
To the sorrowful little hand,
Facing an hour of darkness
That they could not understand."

"In my Father's house are many mansions," this Jesus comforted them. Our word "mansion" was originally merely a place of shelter, and accordingly the margin of the Revised Version has the word "abiding places."

In speaking of his own death, Jesus said, "I go away," "I go to the Father." So Paul said, "The time of my departure is at hand." They were travellers, setting forth on a journey to a better country. So Christ would have us think, not that we are going to die, but that we are going to set forth on a journey that ends at our Father's house.

"If it were not so, I would have told you." In the minds of all peoples there is a belief in a future life. This belief, Jesus' words tell us, is true.

"I think then, O Father, that there is a voice within me which contradicts the silence of death,"—George Matheson.

Might Have Been Worse

During a certain election campaign a candidate in a notorious constituency waxed wrath over some stories about him that appeared in the local paper, and excitedly entered the sanctum of the editor. "Look here!" he cried. "What do you mean by printing all that stuff about me?" "What's the matter with it?" demanded the editor, without showing any signs of perturbation. "What's the matter with it?" raged the perturbed politician. "Why, it's all lies and you know it." "Well, then, what are you complaining about?" asked the editor with a smile. "How would you like it if we had told the truth about you?"

Women of Canada Pay Striking Tribute to Aluminum — the Modern Metal

FROM Windsor, Ontario, to Hudson's Bay, from Halifax to the Rockies, RED ROSE TEA within the last few weeks has scored an extraordinary increase in sales.

It is because we have stopped using paper packages, and are again packing this finest of teas in the old, familiar Aluminum package of years ago.

The reception it has been given demonstrates beyond all doubt that housewives of Canada recognize Aluminum as the perfect container.

For more than thirty years we have been experimenting with packages—trying lead, paper and Aluminum—seeking always a material that would protect and be worthy of Red Rose quality.

But it was only after Red Rose has been offered to the public in all these packages—first lead, then Aluminum, then paper—that the great advantages of Aluminum were proven.

Aluminum keeps out moisture, preserves the flavor and protects the quality. Paper packages, on the contrary, absorb moisture which occasionally impairs the quality.

So now and in the future RED ROSE TEA will be packed in the Aluminum package, as it was in years gone by.

The mountains are located along the Indigirka River. The new range is described as more than 1,000 miles in length, 300 miles wide, with many of the peaks 11,000 feet high. The range probably will be named after Lenin, the late premier.

Soviets Have Sent Expedition to Siberia

Will Seek Meteorite Which Fell Twenty Years Ago
The Soviet Government have dispatched an expedition into Siberia to conduct a search for a great old mythological meteorite, which is reported to have fallen almost 20 years ago.

Scientists, basing their estimates of the meteorite on the descriptions of natives, believe it must weigh at least 300,000 tons. By tradition, it fell in the Central Siberian forest June 30, 1908, causing the natives say, a terrific convulsion and shattering and burning trees over an area of 300 miles.

Government seismographs in Siberia support the long-story to the extent that they recorded a violent shock on the day fixed by the natives.

Scientists believe that if the meteorite can be found it will yield valuable nickel, iron, silver and platinum. The inaccessibility of the region and the sparseness of the population, however, will make it exceedingly difficult to trace.

Canadian Farmer Tells His Experience

"Les" Booth, widely known Ontario farmer, and a sick man for 20 years, suffered daily, only half alive. Now strong, robust, vigorous, credits new found health to Tanlac

"Though popularly known as 'Les,' Mr. Booth's correct first name is George. His home is at 271 Perth St., Brockville. For the past three years he has enjoyed vigorous health but what he endured before then is best told in his own words. 'For twenty years my arms, shoulders, back and hips, ached with rheumatism,' said Mr. Booth. 'Often I had to quit work entirely and I remember one bad spell that kept me in bed for six months. My case got to be so chronic that the help ran the farm. I was practically helpless. Even my wife and hands would swell upon that I couldn't write my name. I readed bedtime, for I got no rest at night. In agony, waiting for morning. Nervous spells would seize me and I would tremble all over like a leaf. I couldn't get any benefit from my food and had to force myself to eat. My weight was far below normal.'

"Three years ago I decided to give Tanlac a good trial, for nothing else had helped me. I could scarcely believe such results were possible as those Tanlac showed. The aching stopped, my appetite came back and I could eat heartily. My nights became more restful, too, and I slept soundly. I gained 16 pounds which I still retain, and I now work hard outdoors from 8 to 10 hours a day. I never have an ache. It's hardly conceivable if folks want to know what Tanlac can do, tell them to write to Les Booth, or to come and see me. I'll tell 'em."

If your health is broken from overwork or neglect, profit from Mr. Booth's experience. Try Tanlac, nature's own body builder, made from roots, herbs and bark. Your druggist has it. Over 52 million bottles sold.

"That I wouldn't do," he declared promptly. "If you have any other reason than a sudden desire to enjoy my admirations without interruptions, I don't want to know it. I am jealous of my vanity."

"Then you shall be flattered," she returned gaily. "I am in the mood for you. Someday there's got to be a battle between us, between you and me, Roddy. Let's have it now."

He was on his feet in an instant and standing over her. She stopped with her eyes, and held him half bent down to her. She did not stir, nor put up a hand; it was just the indescribable something in his eyes.

"No, not just now," she said, her lips shaping into the utmost of their provocativeness. "You mustn't be too literal. But tonight, perhaps, or tomorrow night—or when the moment arrives. But as long as we can't wait to know how I'm coming off."

"Damn you! Are you playing with me?"

No, Roddy. I've never played. Not since my money came. Someday I want to play. After we've had our battle, perhaps. What shall we do first? Let's go up the hill—to some place. Why no up La Turbie?"

"Tonight. That's what I must hurry home to change for. I shall want to look very alluring."

He straightened and looked down at her coolly for a moment. She did not flinch under his gaze, nor did her lips uncurve. He turned away and looked out of the window. It was the ready darkening outside, and the lights of Monte Carlo were vague pin points.

"If we drive carefully we can make it," he concluded. "It's take the wheel myself. You won't be afraid to trust yourself with me, shall you?"

"That's what I want to find out, Roddy. So many people are skeptical of me, I want to know if they're right or wrong."

He laughed. "I shan't ask you to stay beyond the hour," he declared. "I'll need some time alone to try and figure you out. What's happened? Something has, I am certain."

She stopped with her eyes, and held him half bent down to her. "Nothing," she answered him. "Nothing, that is, that wasn't expected."

A servant notified them that Made-moiselle's mount had been brought to the door before either of them realized that the wind had blown. She had induced Kenilworth to tell her some of the histories of the souentra which were strewn about the room in which their tax had been served, and she was enthusiastic about them.

When she went out to her horse she found that the groom also had brought a mount. Kenilworth nodded his approval. Joanna begged to be allowed to ride back to Amette alone, declaring her faith in the lights along the sea boulevard and her horse's instinct. But Kenilworth was firm.

"I should take you along myself," he explained, "but I shall want a look at the car. It's a stiff climb to La Turbie. I always want to be satisfied about my brakes."

At Villa Amette, Joanna found Brandon awaiting her. "I have invited myself to dine," he explained, "and no one seems to object. Perhaps you will go along for an hour or two at the Casino, afterwards. There won't be a crowd and we can drop in for an act at the theatre. You've seemed to have other plans for the evening."

"And so have I," she told him. "I'm going up La Turbie with Roddy. He often wanted me to go up with him, and now I've promised."

"Sorry," she did not wait for the inevitable protest against climbing the narrow, winding road that ventured up the steep La Turbie mountain to the isolated resort above La Turbie village, but tripped on a low stone. Brandon looked after her. When women who were careless seldom went up La Turbie to dine or dance at the famous roadside stop on the hill, unless in groups. The gayest of the hidden rendezvous along the coast. It was, in some ways, also the most forbidding. One always went up La Turbie but one did not, customarily, talk about it. After he had stood for a time in deep reflection, Brandon went onto the Amette veranda and poured out the champagne. Accustomed as he was to the Riviera he estimated the feat of it to his nostrils and his fingers. He appeared to gain, from his conclusions, some definite satisfaction.

He summoned a servant and inquired if Made-moiselle Coustant was still occupied in her boudoir. The maid reported that her mistress was, and would not be down for some little time. "You may tell her," he ordered, "that I shall not be staying to dine, if she won't mind."

A half hour later, when he had dismissed the Amette car which had taken him back to Monte Carlo, Brandon summoned his valet and demanded that a suit of heavy tweeds be laid out for him. When the maid had complied his master ordered:

"Go at once to the garage of the Italian in the Boulevard du Midi and ask for Antoine. If he is not at hand find out where he can be reached immediately. When you have him say that I want him to drive me as soon as he can be ready up the mountain. If he objects to the mist, tell him the thicker the fog the heavier his purse will be, and that much more for his men. Be sure, however, that it is Antoine himself you find. Otherwise return quickly."

On her way to her own boudoir, Joanna stopped at Yvonne's. She too, it seemed, was particularly palatizing at her evening's toilette. Her maids were flushed and nervous under the temper of their mistress. That they were having difficulties in pleasing her was evident from the litter of glittering gowns angrily tossed into heaps on the chaise longue, chairs and even tables. For a brief instant Joanna stood in the hallway door, peering the curtains that shut off Yvonne's sitting room; just long enough for her eyes to harden and narrow. Then she announced brightly that she would be going out with Kenilworth and that she hoped her running away would not interfere with any plans for the evening Yvonne might have made. Yvonne glanced at her sharply. She concluded, however, that there had been nothing hidden in Joanna's tone. "I have no other plans than a run into the Casino, perhaps," she said. "Betty Weymouth is having something or other tonight at her place, and I did promise that you and I would drop in, but that is not important. If you are running away by yourself I shan't trouble."

Joanna went over to the other woman and, stooping, lightly brushed her cheek with her lips. "Then I shan't be seeing you till tomorrow sometime. It will be great fun on the mountain tonight."

Yvonne turned quickly, but the girl had dropped the curtains behind her. She waved both of her maids away when they bore down upon her with Joanna's departure, and sat quietly in a study. Presently she looked up to the mirror before her. She examined the reflection she saw there with an intent, abstract scrutiny.

From her face her gaze wandered to her throat, around which hung her most magnificent pearls, and then to her gown—she had chosen a tiling of pink in orchid hues that had come

"You may take off the pearls," she commanded a maid, "and bring me diamonds. A lot of them. And I shall not wear this gown after all. It's too luminous. I've something in burgundy; bring that." As if to herself she added, in a murmur that neither maid could overhear:

"Burgundy and diamonds. If I'm not mistaken that will do the trick." (To Be Continued.)

Say Eskimos Came From France

Interesting Discovery Has Been Made by Canadian Geologists

Canadian geologists claim to have discovered that the Eskimo, now confined to the Arctic, originated in the South of France. This is one of the major successes of research made by Canadian scientists with the cooperation of the French Government, during little more than a year, and carried out largely on French soil, which it is considered has justified the organization of the Canadian School of Prehistory, and has laid the foundation for more extensive explorations in this field, both in Canada and abroad.

The director of the Canadian School of Prehistory is Dr. Henry M. Ami, F.R.S., F.R.S.C., etc., noted Canadian scientist. Professor Ami's quarters, in an Ottawa Government building, are headquarters for the work.

Digging at a site in the Dordogne department, France, a party of enthusiastic Canadians recovered skulls, bones, weapons and various implements which leave no doubt of the origin of the Eskimo and which enlarge considerably on existing theories regarding the manner in which North America was first populated.

When there were no Great Lakes, before Niagara Gorge was worn below the normal surface of the earth, and when Ottawa was from 2,000 to 3,000 feet beneath a "cap" of snow and ice, that stretched as far South as New Jersey, prehistoric men followed the receding ice cap of Europe, northward to the border of the Arctic seas. Some remained to settle the northern countries, but the ancestors of the Eskimo followed the ice cap, turning eastward across the northern rim of Europe and Asia, and gradually came over the Behring Straits on to the northern Americas.

They went south then, spreading out over what is now Canada, but following the ice back towards the pole again, when it also began to recede with the gradually warming of the earth.

Fortune Came Too Late
Stefan Sandu, one of Rumania's best known bankers, is a millionaire. He received news of his good fortune while on his way to serve a 20-year prison term. He fell heir to 1,500,000 leu through the death of a relative but prison regulations prevented him from having any prison comforts. The million and a half fortune represents only $7,500 but by the time his term has been served compound interest will increase greatly Sandu's wealth.

Jerry—"Have you ever thought seriously of marriage?"
Stranger—"Yeah! I've since the ceremony."

Our Canadian Cabinet

Contains More Scotch Than Any Other Ration and Only One Englishman

Scotland now commands to be made a self-governing dominion, equal in status with the other dominions of the empire. This we gather from the monthly organ of the Scottish Home Rule Association, advocating, in Wilsonian phrase, "self-determination for Scotland." Incidentally it is pointed out that while Britain's cabinet has only two Scots out of 21 (the Earl of Balfour, and Sir John Gilmour), Canada's cabinet contains more of Scots than any other there being eight Scots out of 18, and only one Englishman. Here is the racial constitution of Canada's cabinet as given in the Scotch publication:

THE WORTH OF A FRIEND

There are those who meet in our daily toil as life's dull round we wind, who never smile in a friendly way or a welcome hand extend. They look at life through a dollar sign which fills their greedy souls, and miss the smiles of the friendly folks who past their doorways stroll. I would not change my humble lot for their treasures of costly worth; let me go my way, with the chaps I like, where happiness finds its berth; where each day sends its smiles and deeds to brighten someone's life, and

I find delight in the simple things that lighten care and strife. It is a matter of hoarded wealth that makes our lives worth while, but the loving friends we make and keep through years of tested trial. Let me wander with those wonder souls—the friends that fortune tried—who stood by me through care and trial when others turned aside. Then I'll know I'm rich in the things that count above the treasures of earth, for the friends that are true to themselves and you, are better than money's worth.—B.L.L.L.

KIWANIS MANIFEST INTEREST IN TEACHING PROFESSION

Teachers will read with pleasure and, perhaps, with some degree of surprise the resolution below, passed by the District Convention of Kiwanis Clubs recently held in Winnipeg:

"Whereas, it is recognized that the position of the teaching profession is by reason of its far-reaching effect upon our national life, one of the most important, if not the most important matter which can possibly be the subject of our consideration;

"And whereas, it is felt that that importance is and has for some time past been greatly under-estimated and our whole educational system is thereby impaired and the result is serious and widespread in its effect;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, by the Board of District Trustees of the Western Canada District of Kiwanis in meeting assembled, that this Board make the following recommendations:

"1. That in every club a campaign be launched to arouse interest in the subject with a view to raising the standard and the salaries of the teachers.

"2. That each club devote one special meeting to be addressed by a competent speaker to deal with the subject.

"3. That each club appoint a special committee to interview school boards in its city or district.

"4. That, if possible, a delegate or delegates in each of the Western Canada District provinces be sent to the Annual Convention of Trustees to lay the views of Kiwanis before such convention.

"5. That each club endeavor to impress school boards with the importance of keeping our educated men and women in our own country and of accomplishing this by giving consideration to graduates of our own universities in secondary and higher education.

"6. That representations be made to the Department of Education in each of said provinces to raise the standard of requirements in the teaching profession."

Thanks, Kiwanis! We are confident that a vigorous attempt by you to implement the spirit and letter of the resolution will make for progress in education and the betterment of conditions for teachers.—A.T.A. Magazine.

HIGHWAY BUS TRAFFIC WILL BE CONTROLLED

A new bill placing control of rates charged by motor buses or trucks used to carry freight and passengers over the highways of Alberta under the Public Utilities Board of the province has been introduced in the legislature, as forecast some time ago.

The bill puts wide powers of regulation of such traffic in the hands of the government by order-in-council, and further requires that every owner of a public vehicle of this nature shall take out insurance against damage to passengers, express or freight.

By order-in-council the government may classify such vehicles by weight, fix maximum weights, prohibit their operation on any class of roads, prescribe the form of license and fix the fee, fix the maximum number of passengers or freight and make all rules and regulations for their operation on public highways.

One very important authority proposed to be given to the government by the bill is to "grant by permit to one or more persons the exclusive right to operate a public vehicle upon any public highway or highways which may be by him specified and described, and fix the fee to be paid for every such permit."

The new legislation is the subject of considerable adverse criticism.

A BIG GAIN FOR NEWFOUNDLAND

The conclusion of the Labrador dispute is epochal. It takes away from Canada 113,000 square miles of territory, which, hitherto regarded nothing better than a barren wilderness, is now described as incalculably rich in timber, minerals and water power. The case has been in court for 20 years and has cost the contending parties over $1,000,000. The territory includes some 60,000 square miles of spruce forest valued at $250,000,000, lakes, rivers and a cataract known as Grand Falls which, compared with Niagara, takes second place.

It is an immense piece of territory to take away from one country and give to another all at once. As a result, it trebles the size of Newfoundland, and the event is signalized as the greatest in the ancient colony's history. The effect upon the finances and future of the country must be stupendous. Whether it will have the added effect of drawing Newfoundland into Confederation, is a matter of hazy speculation. There seems to be no reason why it should, and every reason why it shouldn't. The new area will make Newfoundland richer and more independent; it will satisfy all of her territorial aspirations. She will now possess resources that Canada will covet instead of Canada possessing resources that she will covet. There is little hope that with this new acquisition she will want to ally herself with Canada and forfeit the exclusive possession of what she has litigated for 20 years to win.

Canada has suffered an unequivocal loss, but she can stand it. The Dominion is still a vast country, and the loss of the Labrador coastline will not effect the general prosperity. Now that Labrador is in the hands of a small country that needs it, it may be rapidly developed. The water power and pulp-woods will provide new supplies of paper. Canadian capital will no doubt be invested there, and indirectly Canada will benefit by the opening up of Labrador.—Calgary Albertan.

The Board of Trade and other public organizations should not leave a stone unturned to have the provincial government take over the old right of way from Elko to Michel and make it a trunk road. Even if it were only a one-way road it would be fine.—Fernie Free Press.

Index of Canadian Pacific Coastal Service Growth

1. C. P. R.'s huge new pier at Vancouver. 2. J. J. Forster.

The appointment of J. J. Forster, which has recently been announced, to the position of Steamship General Passenger Agent at Vancouver marks another step in the wonderful growth of the Canadian Pacific service on the Pacific Ocean.

Mr. Forster's advancement from the time he joined the Pacific Ocean service in 1913, has been coincident with the growth of the Port of Vancouver. Up until that time the Company's shipping business had come directly under the Railways department, but with Mr. Forster's appointment as General Agent at Vancouver, at the time when the Empress of Russia and the Empress of Asia were added to the Pacific fleet, a new department was formed, the Canadian Pacific Ocean Steamships. More recently the Empress of Canada and the Empress of Australia began to run on the Pacific to meet the increasing traffic. A further indication of the tremendous growth of the port was the opening of the fall of a new pier that has now put Vancouver on the level with the greatest ports of the world.

Blainmore was harrowing another sack of the lower-throat snakes last week end. The Newfoundland crown lands office is being flooded with applications for mineral, timber, water and other concessions on the Labrador coast following the recent award on March 1st, by the imperial privy council, giving the strip to Newfoundland. The government has announced, however that it proposes to act slowly and that it will seek to devise a new policy whereby greater advantages for the colony than heretofore will result from the development of the new territory. ## LEGISLATION TO TAX MAIL ORDER HOUSES

It is expected that a real effort will be made during the coming few weeks to secure provincial legislation in Manitoba along the lines of taxing mail order houses for relief of municipal taxation in the districts from which the mail order houses draw their business.

At the present time it is questionable whether any province has the power to impose taxation of this kind, particularly where in some cases the province imposing the tax would be attempting to tax businesses situated in other provinces. If such legislation is ultimately to find a place on the Statute Books of Canada, as we believe it will, says "Canadian Finance," it would be advisable for one of the provinces to pass such legislation and make a test case as to their powers of enforcing it.

It was held that the provinces had no power to impose such taxation, then a direct appeal would have to be made to the Federal Government whose hands would be very much strengthened if one or more of the provinces had endorsed the principles and made a test case of it. This is a matter in which the boards of trade throughout the Dominion might well co-operate and supporters of the boards of trade should see that it is brought to the directors' attention. —The Commercial Review.

THE NOON HOUR

"I hear you've got a new baby, Mandy. What have you named him?" "Oh, we call him Veto, Miss Smith." "Veto? And why?" "Cause, when the doctor came, he says, 'Well, well, if it ain't another little black baw!' "—Washington Unif. Dirge.

A negro stoker was crossing the Atlantic for the first time. One day, when he came up on deck to get a breath of fresh air, he looked out over the broad expanse of water with no object in sight, and said in disgruntled tones: "Gosh, we is right where we was dis time yistaday!"

A colored lady had accompanied her mistress to an entertainment where a medium had aroused much interest by reading a newspaper through a thick black cloth while blindfolded. At this juncture the colored lady got up to leave.

"You are not going, are you, Amty?" asked her mistress. "Ah she is," replied Amty. "Dis heah am no place for a 'spec'le cul'rid lady wid nothin' on but a thin calic dress."

A colored revival was in full blast, and one old fellow was exhorting the people to contribute generously. "Look, what de Lawd's done for you-all, brieden!" he shouted. "Give him a portion of all you has. Give him a tenth. A tenth belongs to de Lawd!"

"Amen!" yelled a perspiring member of the congregation, overcome by emotion. "Glory to de Lawd! Give him mo'. Give him a twentieth!"

One morning Brown looked over his garden wall and said to his neighbor: "Look here, what are you burying in that hole?"

"Oh," he said, "I'm just replanting some of my seeds, that's all."

"Seeds!" shouted Brown angrily. "It looks more like one of my hens."

"It is! The seeds are inside."

Definite and authentic information has been given to the Cardston Board of Trade that the Great Northern hotel company will spend $300,000 this spring on additional hotel construction and a total of one million dollars in improvements and enlarging the hotel at Waterton Lakes by June of 1928, upon condition that the highway to the Waterton National Park is gravelled this spring.

In a recent address, President Coolidge said: "When we stop to consider the part which advertising plays in the modern life of production and trade, we see that basically it is that of education. It is the most potent influence in adopting and changing the habits and modes of life, affecting what we eat, what we wear and the work and play of the nation." That, in brief, sums up the power of advertising.

An employee of the C.P.R. had a narrow escape from being crushed to death a few days ago, when he slipped through a chute of the coal load at Frank about a half ton of coal and following and partly burying him. He was soon extricated and rushed to the Blainmore hospital.

After a couple of days in that institution, he was able to return to his home. It will be some days before he will be able to resume his employment.

A guest of a small southern hotel was awakened early one morning by knock on his door.

"What is it?" he called drowsily without getting up.

"A telegram, Boss," responded a negro's voice.

"Well, can't you shove it under the door without waking me up so early?"

"No, suh," the darky answered, with his mind on a tip, "it's on a tray."

A couple had just been married. The clergyman shook hands with the bride and then held out his hand to the bridegroom. The latter, however, took no notice, but stood with his hand in his trousers pocket.

When he saw that the clergyman continued to hold out his hand, he said, in an annoyed tone, "Can't you see I'm setting the money out as fast as I can?"

Coyote hunters have been busy in the district lately, but it is a question whether the hunters or the coyotes do the most damage. Certain it is that a lot of half-starved hounds roaming the countryside, do not improve the partridge and chicken shooting. Especially is this the case when they are allowed to run at large during the nesting season. Crows and magpies may do a certain amount of damage, but it is nothing compared with that done by a lot of ill-conditioned curs disturbing the nests. It is a great pity that the government does not place a large tax on all mongrel dogs, there are far too many around.

—Rockford correspondent to Strathmore Standard.

Dr. G. C. McLaughlin, speaking to a Fernie audience on the subject of dancing, gave the fact that the Mormons have taken advantage of the dance as a means of popularizing their church. They encourage early marriage because large families multiply their power. So they have a dance once a week in their church, so that their young people can become acquainted. The floors of the church are always waxed. The dance is always opened with prayer and at midnight promptly and without exception it is closed by prayer and the benediction. He never heard of a dance conducted by members of the Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian or other churches that would make prayer possible as a part of the exercise.

The grain harvest of 1925 has left more in the country than the greater harvest and somewhat higher prices of 1926, according to N. M. Paterson, president of the Paterson Steamship Company, and owner of a hundred country elevators in the West. With one other city elevator now being built at a contract cost of $800,000 at Fort William. Mr. Paterson, who was interviewed at the Windsor Hotel in Montreal recently, having arrived from Winnipeg, is travelling with his father and mother, wife, six children and two nurses, by Canadian Pacific route, land and steamship, to England with a view to staying at Bournemouth for the next three months.

Ephraim had put on a clean collar and his best coat, and was walking majestically up and down the street. "Aren't you working today, Ephraim?" asked one of his acquaintances.

"No, suh. I'm celebratin' my goldin' wedding, suh."

"You were married 50 years ago today?"

"Yes, suh."

"Well, why ain't your wife helping you to celebrate it?"

"My present wife, suh," replied Ephraim, with dignity, "ain't nothin' to do with it. She's de fo'rin'."

Branch Lines in the West

The next few years will witness great activity in branch lines railway construction in Western Canada, judging by the Canadian National Railways programme covering the next three years, recently outlined to Parliament by Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Minister of Railways, coupled with the intention that has been given that the Canadian Pacific also plans extensive branch lines building in the West, although, at the time of writing, the details of their programme have not been made public.

Canada is well equipped with main lines of railway; so well equipped in fact that the statement is frequently made that the Dominion has overbuilt in this respect. These main lines run east and west, carrying the products of the West to Ontario, Quebec, the Atlantic and the Pacific coast, and bringing to the prairies the manufactured goods of the east, and the fruit, fish, lumber of British Columbia, as well as the imports coming through our seaport cities.

In order to make these long main lines profitable from an operating standpoint, there must be a veritable network of branch lines to feed them. It is in the West that these feeders are mostly needed, and where the possibilities for securing new and larger traffic is most promising.

There is another lack in the West in the railway situation as it now exists, and that is in the matter of lines running north and south connecting the several east and west main lines. Branch line construction in more recent years has been planned solely to not only provide feeders to the main lines, but through a gradual linking up of these branches bring about connecting lines running in a generally north and south direction.

Branch line construction in the West must, in the future, have still another main objective in mind. The Hudson Bay Railway is being pushed to completion, and by the end of the year will almost if not quite reach to the Bay terminal. By the West, this railway is regarded as a main line—a direct Western route to the water and the markets of Europe. If this route proves to be what its advocates claim for it, then in the not too distant future millions of bushels of Western grain will move north which must now find an outlet either to the Atlantic or the Pacific.

Our existing network of main and branch lines must be provided with direct connection with the Hudson Bay Railway. Its success requires this, and the people demand it in order that they may enjoy maximum benefits which the new outlet should provide.

As the southern terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway is in Saskatchewan, it naturally follows that the initial work of providing direct connection with it must be done in that Province through the building of certain branches which will have the effect of linking up existing lines with the Bay road. The building of such lines are included in the C.N.R. programme recently announced. It would be a mistake, however, to regard these as purely Saskatchewan branches. They are just as important and as essential to Manitoba and Alberta as they are to the Province in which they must actually be built.

The construction of these connecting branches may also prove an important factor in effecting a complete change in transportation matters and development in this whole western country. Lacking any northern outlet to the sea, those products of Western Canada, which do not go east to the Atlantic or west to the Pacific, are forced to move to the south, that is, to the United States, to Minneapolis, Chicago, and thence to Buffalo or New York.

With the opening of the Hudson Bay outlet, and the connecting of our existing railway systems with the road to the north, not only will our own western products find a shorter outlet, but, instead of Canada shipping to the south, products of the northwestern states will, because of these direct connections and shorter haul, move northward through Canada, providing additional traffic for our railways, and adding to the volume of business over the Hudson Bay Railway.

The appropriation of over $5,000,000 for construction work on the Hudson Bay Railway, and of an even larger sum to be expended by the Canadian National in the next three years on branch lines in Saskatchewan to connect existing lines with the Bay road, and to provide direct connection for Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and the northwestern states with the Bay, marks a new era in railway transportation in the West and in the development of the whole prairie section of the Dominion.

After taking legal action on four different occasions to prevent his deportation by the immigration authorities, Hum Ding Yoo, Montreal Chinaman, succeeded when he invoked a British law dating from the reign of Charles II., and under a habeas corpus order entered by Justice Bruneau in the practice division of the superior court, he is now free to remain in Canada.

Indians Are Good Farmers

Indians of Prairie Provinces Produced One Million Bushels of Grain Last Year

The Indians of the three Prairie Provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta—last season produced in round figures one million bushels of grain, of which about half, or 500,000 bushels, was wheat, according to a recent Government report. There are about 35,000 Indians in the area in question and the land reserved for their use includes some of the most fertile soil in the Prairie. They had 97,000 acres under cultivation in 1926. They own about 25,000 head of cattle and 35,000 horses of a good type.

To Increase Egg Production

Hens Lay More Eggs With the Use of Light

The use of lights with the laying flock increases the winter and yearly egg production. Fall laying can be kept up by using lights from September 1 to November 1. It is possible by using lights to carry the early hatchlings through the first production period with much less moulting than when lights are not used. Slow maturing pullets will mature faster under lights. Properly installed lights will increase in the winter income from the birds for the year.

MARCH WEATHER DANGEROUS TO BABY

On Account of the Very Sudden Changes in Temperature

Our Canadian March weather—one day bright, hot, sunny, the next blustery and cold—is extremely hard on children. Conditions make it necessary for the mother to keep the little ones indoors. They are often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catch colds which rack their whole system. To ward off these colds and to keep the baby well until the better, brighter days come along, a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach sweet and his bowels working regularly.

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fails to regulate the stomach and bowels, and thus relieve colds and simple fevers and keep the baby healthy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Naval Base at Port Royal

Shifting of Naval Base From Bermuda to the Caribbean Sea is Under Consideration

Establishment of a naval base at Port Royal and the reduction in status of Bermuda, now the chief British naval base in southern Atlantic waters, are reported to be under consideration by the British Government. The reported shifting of the naval base from Bermuda to the Caribbean Sea would give Great Britain a naval station directly south of the American base of Guantanamo, and in the pathway of the Panama Canal. Plans call for the conversion of Port Royal into an airplane, hydroplane and submarine base, it is said. All island forts will be manned by natives. Bermuda, it was said, will consequently be considerably reduced in status as an important British naval station.

Reduced Strength of R.C.M.P.

New Fewer in Number, But Work Has Greatly Increased

Commissioner Starnes of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, in his annual report to the Minister of Justice, draws attention to the reduced strength of the force, and a marked increase in the number of cases dealt with. The strength in 1926 was 876, and 28,000 cases were handled, while in 1929, the strength was 1,500 and 10,000 cases were disposed of.

Speaking of the Arctic work, the commissioner referred to "the urgent need for a new post in the island, and I am under pressure to establish several additional detachments among the aboriginal inhabitants." As the result of the northward drift which is in progress, the number of men in the far North has been nearly trebled.

The commissioner states that a real emergency has arisen in the appeal to his force by the customs department for police officers. He points out that more than $72,000 was lost by the force in revenues for various Government departments.

Farm of the Future

Nuts and Beans Only Crop Predicted by Dr. Kellogg

The farm of the future without animals, except possibly a horse for riding, and without fowls, except for "decorative purposes," was envisioned by Dr. J. H. Kellogg, Battle Creek, 76-year-old advocate of a vegetable diet.

For the products of farm animals and fowls he would substitute "a few walnut or hickory nut trees in the back yard and along the highways, with wild crops of soy beans and peanuts."

He admitted, however, that preparation must be gradual for such a radical change as the elimination of milk, eggs and meat, but said he had followed such a diet for many years "with immense profit."

Noiseless Construction

Buildings May Soon Be Erected Silently With Electric Heat

The steel frame of a five-story factory has just been completed in Sharon, Pa., without arousing the entire town from its morning slumber or testing its nerves. There were no maddening blows of pneumatic riveters delivered with the noise and rattling of machine gun in action and no picturesque dangerous tossing of red-hot rivets into a shiftily manipulated barrel a hundred feet away. Sixteen experts wearing goggles noiselessly fused beams and girders together with the intense heat of dazzling electric arcs.

It will be recalled that the arc welder was applied with brilliant success by American engineers in repairing the disabled machinery of interesting German ships during the war. At Sharon the same apparatus was used for the first time in erecting the frame of a large building.

The Sharon structure must be tested for strength, and the comparative costs of riveting and welding must be established, before we may herald the day when skyscrapers will be silently erected with electric heat. But it augurs well for the noiseless future that 100 tons of steel (one-eighth the amount it would ordinarily have been required) were saved by arc welding and that Sharon's historic five-story factory has a steel frame of unprecedented lightness and stiffness for its size.

Rescued by a Queen

While motoring on the dunes near the Hague, Queen Wilhelmina saw a woman struggling in the sea. She ordered her chauffeur to drive as quickly as possible to the place, and the Queen, together with the chauffeur and a lady-in-waiting, got the woman out of her perilous position. Wrapped in shawls, she was taken to the nearest hospital, where she quickly recovered. She had walked into the water in a state of nervous excitement.

Is Still a Secret

Lord Kelvin, when he was a professor in Glasgow University, once asked one of his classes to tell him what they knew of electricity. The class was diffident, but at last one of the students blurted out, "I know all about it last week, but I've forgotten." Professor Thompson (as Lord Kelvin then was), looked at the student and said gravely, "Do you know you are quite unique, for you are one of the only two people who have ever known all about electricity? One is God Almighty, but He doesn't tell. You are the other one you have forgotten. What a pity!"

Stamp Laundry in Italy

Was Doing Big Business Washing and Re-Gumming Used Stamps for Circulation

The French secret service has solved a postage stamp mystery which has been creating a great commotion among merchants. In many parts of France for some time, many bills for goods have been paid by sales of authentic stamps ranging in denomination from ten centimes to five francs. Since stamps are legal tender, the merchants were obliged to take the stamps. When a bill of one thousand francs owing to a Paris shop was paid in stamps the management notified the Surete Generale. Exhaustive investigation disclosed that while the stamps were not counterfeit, they had been washed, all cancellation marks obliterated and then regummed. The stamp laundry was located in Italy, doing a large business.

LETHBRIDGE KENNEL CLUB

The Lethbridge Kennel Club, recently organized, will hold a matinee show in Lethbridge on Good Friday and are anxious to obtain a number of entries from the Crows' Nest Pass district.

The new club carries the name, "The Southern Alberta Kennel Club." The secretary is Mr. V. Williams, 311 12th Street South, Lethbridge, who is ready at all times to furnish any information desired. The membership fee is $2.00 and all dog lovers in the district are invited to become members and take an interest in this forthcoming show, which will open at 1.30 p.m. on Good Friday.

PROTECTING ALBERTA GAME

Hon. George Hoadley has introduced a long list of amendments to the game laws, including a five-year close season for partridge and the establishment of provincial game preserves. It is said that some of the new regulations will place severe restrictions on the operations of the enthusiastic sportsman, but they are all in the interest of the birds and animals. The amendments are framed evidently on the assumption that the game of Alberta needs protection, and from all accounts it certainly does. Complaints of the disappearance of the prairie chicken are numerous, although nobody knows exactly why the birds have gone, and consequently no one knows that an amendment to the game laws will bring them back.

The close season for partridge indicates that these birds must be getting scarce. The slaughter of them has been too wanton in the past. Either that or disease or unaccountable migration have made them disappear. If the birds show any genuine partiality for Alberta a lengthy term of protection will restore them to their oldtime numbers.—Calgary Albertan.

WANTS THE SOUTH ROUTE

The secretary of the Fernie Board of Trade has received a copy of the following resolution of the Nelson Board of Trade re the proposed trans-provincial highway to the coast:

"Whereas the Nelson Board of Trade and the residents of the southern interior generally, have been repeatedly assured by the responsible ministers that the only route which was being considered for the Trans-provincial Highway was by way of Nelson and the Crows' Nest Pass, and that this route would be completed at the earliest possible date;

"Therefore, Be It Resolved That this Board strongly urges that the construction of the Trans-provincial Highway from Nelson eastward be commenced and carried to completion at the earliest possible date, and that in order to facilitate carrying out of the work all funds available for the Trans-provincial Highway be devoted to the construction of the road referred to."

St. Patrick is to be banqueted at Drumheller this evening.

ANGLERS' LICENSE TUT

Of particular interest to members of the Rod and Gun Club in this district and others who take pleasure in fishing, is the announcement of the adoption of an amendment made to the game act just before the House prorogued, restoring the former $1.00 per day fishing license fee, or $10.00 per year, for non-residents of the province. Complaint was made that the $10.00 fee without any alternative was detrimental in that it kept those who had no desire to remain long from participating in the fishing which they desired, and so acted against the hotels and business generally. For this reason, the former $1.00 per day fee was restored. Another amendment which it was sought to put through was that proposed by the attorney-general to provide that in the case of a farmer shooting game birds for the protection of his crop, he be compelled to withhold making any use of it for his table. This proposal was turned down.

The Cranbrook Rod and Gun Club have received word that Mr. F. Ryder, who has been assisting at the hatchery for the past two seasons, will be arriving about the 31st March and the understanding is that the government has undertaken the payment of his salary during the months he is engaged here.—Kinberley Press.

IMPORTANT CASE DECIDED BY APPELLATE COURT

In the case of McNaught versus The Royal Trust Company, an action brought by Miss McNaught, of Granum, against the Royal Trust Company, executor of the will of the late Matthew McNaught for recovery of a half section of land which plaintiff alleged that the late McNaught omitted to transfer to her in his lifetime, and to establish her claim to certain cattle which the executor claimed as part of the estate. The action was tried before Mr. Justice Boyle at Macleod last December. His Lordship dismissed the plaintiff's claim to the land and awarded her a half interest in 155 head of cattle. Appeal was taken by the plaintiff, which was argued before the Appellate Division last Monday at Calgary. The appeal was allowed with costs, the court awarding plaintiff the half section of land and sustaining the trial judge's finding in respect to the cattle. C. F. Carswell, Esq., of Granum, solicitor for the plaintiff, with J. D. Matheson, of Macleod, as counsel. C. F. Adams Esq., K.C., and O. H. E. Migh, Esq., both of Calgary, for defendant.

A DEER HUNT NEAR PASSBURG, ALBERTA

(Copied from the March issue of Rod and Gun)

Ever since Uncle Bill presented Jack with a hunting knife a year ago, he has been itching to try it out dressing a deer. Jim, our oldest boy, who reached his majority the other day, and is nearly three years Jack's senior, has several bucks to his credit, while the largest game that Jack had brought down was jack rabbits.

We—Jim, Uncle Bill and myself—had teased him unmercifully about the uses the knife could be put to. We suggested that he take it out on our weekly fishing trip, to gut the fish and take the scales off the grayling. When he shot the ten-pound jack rabbit in October, the one the dispute was about, as to whether Jim's shot or his own actually killed the rabbit, we urged him to try the knife on skinning the rabbit, as it probably would be the biggest game he would have the opportunity of taking the hide off. Jack took the teasing in good part and assured us that he would use the knife on a deer just as soon as the season opened.

During the first week in November, the boys went out one morning to hunt the country between Passburg and the South Fork. They made the summit and headed west. About 2 p.m., Jim sighted a buck and two does on the east slope of Maverick Ridge. They had gotten his wind and were on the run, over a rough, dry timber and boulder-strewn country, and were about one hundred and fifty yards away. He managed to strike the buck with his first shot, which somewhat delayed its progress, but he had to follow them a considerable distance and put two more shots into him before he finally collapsed. Jack, who had been half a mile further south, had jumped a solitary buck. He emptied his rifle at it without effect, other than increasing the speed of the deer. He joined Jim and they dragged the deer, which had a very fine head and weighed over three hundred pounds, to where it could be reached with a pack horse. They dressed the deer and brought the liver home for the next morning's breakfast.

Early the following day, Jim and I went out with old "Bugs" and a pack saddle to bring in the meat. It was a hard trip and took us six hours. This included the time I occupied lecturing him on the foolishness of shooting a deer in such an outlandish place, and advised him to do as I do, drive him nearly home before you knock him over.

Two weeks later, Jack went out south alone, armed with a .280 Ross, and, of course, his new hunting knife. There had been a fresh fall of snow the night before. On the summit, he picked up fresh deer tracks, heading for the South Fork. He followed them for over an hour before he located the game. With a little judicious stalking he got within shooting distance and brought down his first deer. When he reached home that night, with the liver as evidence that he made a kill, he was feeling very proud of himself. The photo was taken when bringing the deer home.—J.K.

Welcome the Newcomer

The immigration season is just opening, and, judging from all reports and present prospects, Canada is due to receive a larger influx of settlers than in any year since the period between 1900 and the outbreak of the war. This increasing stream of people toward Canada results from a number of factors. In the first place, conditions in Europe are more favorable than they have been since the upheaval caused by the war, and people who have long been anxious to emigrate are better able to do so. Canada, too, has somewhat relaxed the restrictions imposed on immigration following the war and when this country, like all others, was faced with the problems of readjustment and the re-establishment in civilian life and employment of the hundreds of thousands of Canadians whose energies had been devoted to war activities and industries. Until our domestic problems of unemployment and rehabilitation had been solved it was generally considered unwise to allow any large numbers of new people to enter the Dominion.

The economic and financial situation throughout Canada has likewise enormously improved; employment is now general; great development enterprises are under way; railway and public construction is increasing; trade and commerce is steadily and rapidly expanding.

Agriculture has enjoyed several fairly prosperous years, and, whatever may be the difficulties yet to be overcome, they are being faced and solved, with the result that the Canadian farmer is today in a much better and more hopeful position than his fellow agriculturist in the United States. The Canadian farmer through organization and co-operation has successfully met problems which still confront the United States farmer, and solutions to which he asks Government authorities to provide.

The success of the Western Pools, the steady reduction in taxation, Federal, Provincial and Municipal, decreasing railway deficits, increased railway branch line construction, all are helpful factors in the economic structure, leading to confidence in Canada and encouraging to incoming emigrants as providing substantial reasons why they can succeed in this country.

But, as has been stated in this column on more than one occasion, successful colonization is much more important than quantity in immigration. Canada wants more people—no one disputes that fact. But, above all, Canada's future, growth, prosperity and sound national development demands that our immigrants be transformed in the shortest possible space of time into contented, law-abiding, prosperous people, resulting in permanent homes and good citizens.

To achieve this much to be desired end, governments, railways, and organizations of many kinds are doing much and can do more, but, in the final analysis, municipal and school bodies and the individual neighbors of these newcomers can exert the most powerful and helpful influence. Every rural municipal council, every rural school trustee board, should in itself be a small local colonization board, alert and ready to make welcome each and every incoming settler, regardless of his race, creed or circumstances in life.

Present settlers should make it a part of their duties of citizenship to extend a hearty welcome to their new neighbors, to offer such advice as may be necessary, and give a helping hand in time of sickness or difficulty. These newcomers, if thus encouraged, will become permanent residents. As such they will help to develop the district and the Province. They will bear their share of the tax burden, and thus lighten it for all. Their presence will meet better roads, better schools, and the possibility of modern conveniences now considered out of the question because of cost to the present sparse and scattered population.

The eyes of the world, and especially of Great Britain and the rest of the Empire, will be focussed on Canada in this year of its diamond jubilee. Tens of thousands of people will come to mark their future homes in this Dominion. Their success in the great venture means everything to them, but it will also mean much to the future of all Canada. No Canadian of today can render greater service to the country than by doing all that lies in his or her power to make immigration to the Dominion this year successful by the conveyance of the newcomers, through sane and practical colonization, into permanent settlers and worthwhile citizens, the greatest asset in any country, and the only abiding foundation of national greatness in the truest meaning of the term.

Worked For Livingstone

Man Still Living in Transvaal Tended Sheep for Famous Explorer

Delivered to be the last survivor of the gallant band who knew and helped Livingstone in his great work. Lazarus Raikane still lives, hale and hearty, in the Vereeniging district of the Transvaal. Raikane, whose statements are well vouched for, says he was born "long ago" in the Pretoria district. When about 15 years of age he went to Kuruman, where he met Dr. Livingstone, who employed him to tend his sheep and draw water for the household. Records show that Livingstone went to Kuruman in 1841. It would, therefore, appear that Raikane must be in his 70th year.—Glasgow Herald.

Held Airplane Motionless

Sixton Bomber Pilot's Feat in Flight Near London

A 6-ton night bombing plane according to test from the Cricke Wood Aerodrome, London, W. 9, was made by its pilot to hover motionless. The machine was a Handley Page and its pilot, Capt. A. S. Wilcockson, encountered at a height of 2,000 feet, a wind attaining gale strength. Heading into this and throttling down his engines he reduced his air speed until, in relation to the ground below, he was completely still. Then, with another slight throttling down he still further reduced his air speed with the result that, for a minute or so, he was moving backwards relative to the earth.

Urges End of Wars

British Envoy to Washington Pleads for Anglo-Saxon Unity

"The sort of unity I want to see grow up among the English-speaking peoples is a unity of heart and understanding," said Sir Esmé Howard, British ambassador to Washington in a speech on Anglo-Saxon unity, delivered before the Twentieth Century Club at Washington. "I should like it to be an accepted fact," he added, "in the mind of every man, woman and child in all English-speaking countries that come what may we still will never war with each other, but that such a war would be like a duel between brothers—a thing wholly and impious, not to be even thought of."

"If we have to spend large sums on armaments," he said later on, "let us at least do so without reference to the armaments of the other but only considering our own necessities for protection generally. There can be no unity of heart or of purpose if we are going to begin eyeing each other with suspicion every time the other builds a new ship or develops some engine of destruction." Speaking of conditions in Europe, Sir Esmé reminded his hearers that Great Britain could not ignore the continent in her efforts to preserve Anglo-Saxon unity.

CONDITIONS THAT CALL FOR A TONIC

Symptoms That the Blood is Thin Should Not Be Neglected

Weak, lacking in strength, energy and ambition, nervous, sleepless, poor appetite, digestion disturbed—these are the symptoms of a great majority of people who have been benefited by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The great value of this medicine in cases of this kind is proved by the statement of Mrs. W. Hensher, Kingston, Ont., who says: "Following a severe cold I was left in a run-down, nervous condition; I had pains in the back and limbs and could scarcely move about. I did not sleep well at night and was despondent and discouraged. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and, truly, I say that after the use of six boxes, my change in my condition was nothing short of marvelous. The pains vanished, I slept well, had a good appetite, and in every way felt well and strong. I also gave the pills to my daughter, who was in an anemic condition and feeling quite miserable, and to her case, too, they restored health. I hope my experience may help some other weak person."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. A little book, "Building Up the Blood," which contains many useful health hints, will be sent free on request.

Owing to the presence of rivers, lakes and swamps along the route, it will be possible by using seaplanes to alight at almost any point.

Cancer

After twenty years of practical experience and research, the late Dr. F. W. Forbes, noted cancer specialist, announced, in 1912, that cancer is caused by a deficiency of potassium "salt" in the body and if such deficiency is remedied, Cancer, even in advanced cases, will retrograde and, in some cases, will be cured. This eminent English authority abundantly proved the truth of his assertion and, since then, his voluntarily written testimony of thousands of sufferers who state they have been completely restored has brought forth his name with confidence and justification on both sides of the Atlantic ocean.

The public is thus realizing the unpleasant truth that while scientific refinement deprives all white flour and white sugar of the white trace of potassium, the boiling of our vegetables also destroys the health-preserving organic salts which an all-wise Creator originally placed in them and a civilized world, having eliminated its food values, is today consuming what Dr. Forbes has described as "junk minus minerals."

Such diet creates more acids than the human liver can neutralize or dispose of, and the consequent inevitable potassium starvation results in rheumatism in any of its varied forms, gout, eczema or any of the ailments caused by potassium deficiency, including ulceration of stomach or other organs, which, if not remedied, is liable to degenerate to cancer. In fact, the now practically universal internal stasis or constipation of all humanity's malaises, purgatives or laxatives will ever cure, in the certain forerunner of ninety per cent of all humanity's malaises, of which cancer is the most deadly.

When, but not until drastic reform takes place in modern diet, will men and women appreciate their personal ability to avoid not only Cancer, but almost all the prevalent maladies which are actually, if unconsciously, self-inflicted. Till such drastic reform occurs, sufferers will continue to alleviate their individual potassium starvation by taking at home with their meals, the small slices of The Cantanissium Treatment, which, with fully explanatory literature and interesting case reports, can be obtained from Charles Walter, 41, Brunswick Avenue, Toronto, 4, Ontario. ## Has Powerful War Weapon

British Guards Secret of Mysterious Invisible Searchlight Ray

The British Government is jealously guarding its new war secret, a mysterious invisible searchlight ray which makes it impossible for an enemy to conduct military operations at night unobserved.

It is one of the most formidable weapons yet discovered, and it was discovered accidentally.

John L. Baird, inventor of the television, and the discoverer of the mysterious ray, accidentally stumbled on the new ray while he was trying to perfect the television apparatus with radio as far as 150 miles.

It belongs to the infra-red section of the spectrum outside the range of the human eye. His process is to isolate and use the ray which the human eye cannot see but which is susceptible of being recorded on his secret apparatus.

"By proper adaption of these principles," he disclosed, "it will be possible to see an enemy in the dark when he believes himself to be unobserved."

"So far we are seeing over comparatively short distances, but it has now become simply a question of certain technical improvements and the application of greater power in order to be able to see a person or a scene which is thousands of miles distant from the point where we are looking into the receiving screen."

His associate, Captain O. G. Hutchinson, goes even further. "At night, airplanes approaching under the cover of darkness will be disclosed to the defending headquarters by the electric eye of the television. They will be followed by searchlight emitting invisible rays, and as these rays will be unseen by them, they will continue to approach until, without warning, they are brought down by the guns of the defense."

Explanation Is Simple

Talking flappers women less than it does men, a Flemish scientist says in a "dry objective way, without entering into the controversy as to whether the female is more talkative than the male. Road to James Bay

Ontario is Interested in Development of North Country

There was a hint in the speech from the throne at Toronto that the railway into northern Ontario will be pushed another step toward James Bay this year. The project was not started with a view to opening up an outlet to the northern area, but to open up the country intervening. The results have justified the undertaking and will likely lead eventually to its completion. It was worth building the railway to bring the development that has occurred in the Cobalt country, and the mineralized zone extends north of that district; indirectly, perhaps even to the shore of the bay.—Edmonton Bulletin.

TAKE STRONGER MEASURES TO STOP SMUGGLING

Ottawa.—Extensive changes in the preventive service against smuggling, including the increase of the personnel from 92 to 229 on land and the addition of fast armed motor boats are recommended in the report of the advisory and consultative committee on the excise preventive service reorganization, tabled in the House of Commons by Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of customs and excise.

"The preventive service should be strengthened greatly if anything like reasonably satisfactory control of smuggling into the country is to be expected," stated the committee. The report shows that the 10 boats with crews of 154 at present owned by the service, have speeds varying from six to fifteen knots per hour. These vessels are "thoroughly outclassed" in speed and size by the vessels owned by liquor smugglers who make high profits.

It is proposed that two vessels and two fast launches should be provided as the minimum equipment as soon as possible. They should be 125 feet long with a minimum speed of 16 knots, wireless power, search lights, auxiliary motor boats, and three pound or larger guns. The crews should total 188 officers and men—an increase of 34, and the capital outlay is estimated at $200,000, and the operating expense at $7,500.

The land force of the preventive service should have eight district directors, 229 preventive officers instead of the present 92, and 26 motor cars instead of the present five. This establishment, together with the headquarters in Ottawa, should cost $657,000.

"We most strongly recommend that the selection be made by the Civil Service Commission and the chief of the preventive service," states the committee.

The estimated capital and operating expenditures of the preventive service as it is proposed would total $1,442,755 and in the event of one aircraft being put into service for six months in accordance with the offer of the Royal Canadian Air Force, an additional $85,000 would be added.

Suggests Tablets To Commemorate Jubilee

Would Carry Message of Confederation Throughout Canada Says Ontario M.P.

Ottawa.—The message of confederation should be brought home to every elector in the Dominion best by the placing of a bronze tablet in every riding to commemorate the greatest event in the history of the Dominion, Dr. T. E. Kaiser, member of parliament for the riding of Ontario, believed.

Dr. Kaiser is passing his suggestion along to the committee in charge of the jubilee celebration. He has artists working on a plaque which will be presented to the committee.

A bronze tablet could be made from the plaque. On it there would be Queen Victoria, Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and every prime minister of Canada.

In the centre would appear the facsimile of the face of the fifteenth member of the riding in 1827.

The tablet would be appropriately worded and be hung in every county council or municipal chamber in every one of the 245 ridings in the Dominion.

Declared Public Holidays Ottawa.—Although the details of Canada's jubilee celebration are yet to be worked out by the National Committee, it is expected that for the most part they will take place on Friday, July 1, and the Saturday and Sunday following. The bill which incorporated the committee has received royal assent. It provides that July 1 and 2 shall be public holidays.

Failed to Break Record Belleville, Ill.—Becoming unconscious at an altitude of 27,000 feet, Capt. ## Interim Pool Payment

$27,000,000 Being Distributed to Farmers in Three Prairie Provinces

Regina, Sask.—The Canadian co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, central selling agency for the three prairie wheat pools, announces that the first interim payment for the 1926-27 crop is being mailed from the offices of the Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta pools. The amount of the payment is officially stated to be 15c per bushel for spring wheat and spring wheat mixtures, 20c per bushel for durum wheat and durum wheat mixtures, 8c per bushel on all grades of oats; 5c per bushel on all grades of barley, 12c per bushel on all grades of flax. A total of $27,000,000 is thus distributed to prairie farmers in the three provinces, according to Mr. McPhail.

Saskatchewan's share of the $27,000,000 being distributed as a result of the interim wheat pool payment on the 1926-27 crop amounts to between $17,500,000 and $18,000,000 according to an official statement issued by the Saskatchewan Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited.

Officials of the pool call attention to the fact that this huge sum of money, scattered widespread over Saskatchewan just prior to seedling, represents the benefits of the pool system of marketing, which was absolutely unknown prior to the organization of the pools in 1923 and 1924. The beneficial effects of these payments is not only recognized and greatly appreciated by pool members, but it is recognized by bankers and businessmen alike.

Would Amend British North America Act

J. S. Woodworth Suggests Committee Be Appointed to Change Constitution

Ottawa.—A committee "to consider what amendments might be made to the British North America Act which, while conserving the principles of confederation would enable us more adequately to cope with the complicated problems which now confront Canada," was proposed in the House of Commons by J. S. Woodworth, labor, Winnipeg North Centre.

Mr. Woodworth gave as reasons for his proposal:

A.—The constitutional developments of the last 50 years.

B.—The dissatisfaction of certain provinces.

C.—The changed conditions in industry, commerce and finance not contemplated at the time of Confederation.

D.—The action of the Senate in preventing the enactment of popular legislation.

In proposing his resolution Mr. Woodworth declared Canada had no way of changing its own constitution, and in this regard it was inferior to South Africa, Australia and the Motherland. He spoke of a "very widespread feeling" in the West that there would be an inevitable break of confederation with perhaps cooperation with the other parts of Canada on some other basis.

Engine Trouble Ends Trans-Atlantic Flight

Oil Pipe in Motor Blocked Says Message From Uruguay Flier

Madrid.—Paralysis of an oil pipe in the motor of his plane brought the trans-Atlantic expedition of Major Tadeo Lario-Borges, Uruguayan flier, to an abrupt end while he was flying from Casa Blanca, Morocco, to Cape Jubi. He made this known in a brief message received by the Uruguayan minister through the high commissioner at Cape Jubi. The message said the failure of the oil pipe to function made it necessary to stop and that the plane was "destroyed" when it alighted.

Major Tadeo Lario-Borges is in the hands of Moroccan tribesmen who captured him and his three flying companions after the plane was wrecked. He is believed to be held for ransom.

Waiting Outcome of Conference London.—Great Britain does not intend to lay down any naval vessels of her 1927 program of new construction until late in the year or until the outcome of the disarmament conference is known, William Clive Bridge-man, first lord of the admiralty, told the House of Commons. Work on vessels already under construction will not be stopped, he said.

Arms Parley This Fall Geneva.—The League of Nations council adopted a resolution to the effect that the international conference for supervision of private manufacture of arms should be held this fall.

Urges New Treaty Practice

British Foreign Secretary Asks Negotiation Between Heads of States

Geneva.—An echo of the last Imperial Conference was sounded in the League of Nations council when Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, asked the League to abolish the practice of negotiating treaties as between states and substitute that of treaties between heads of states. He explained that his statement was made at the request of the British and Dominion governments. It did not mean that the Dominions would lose the prerogative of accepting or rejecting treaties but that acceptance of treaties by Great Britain and the Dominions would be facilitated.

Ottawa.—The statement made by Sir Austen Chamberlain in the council of the League of Nations as to the form of signature which it was hoped would be adopted for the British Empire in signing League documents, is in line with the decision arrived at during the imperial conference. The Canadian Government also received detailed information as to Mr. Chamberlain's statement.

CHINA RESENTS INTERFERENCE OF RUSSIAN SOVIETS

Shanghai.—The drive of the Cantonese for the city of Soochow and the attendant threat on Shanghai are overshadowed momentarily by the possibility of strained relations between the Peking Government and Moscow, growing out of the arrest of Madame Borodin, wife of the adviser to the Cantonese Government, and three Soviet couriers.

The Chinese authorities declare there have been increasing indications that large numbers of Cantonese emissaries have been sent northward in an endeavor to stir up trouble among the workers. Every precaution already has been taken to prevent an influx of these agitators into Shanghai, Tientsin, Peking and other northern industrial centers.

It is charged here that the Soviet steamer Panlat Lennia, on which Mme. Borodin and the couriers were seized by a squad of white Russians attached to the army of Chang Tsoang Chang, had tons of Red propaganda tracts aboard and only a few pounds of tea.

While the military situation between the Cantonese and the northern forces is developing steadily, the question of propaganda is troubling the northern commanders since it is interfering with their transportation of troops.

Want Higher Wages

Winnipeg.—Employees of the Canadian National Express Company representing 2,500 from coast to coast, have served notice of a demand for higher wages on officials of the company. The exact amount of the general increase cannot be stated, although it is thought to be an average of approximately 20 per cent.

Navigation to Open Early

Ottawa.—Canada's giant ice-breaker Mikula has reached the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and conditions there are propitious to an early opening of navigation. The Department of Marine and Fisheries has been informed by a wireless from the ship.

CHIEF FEATURES OF ONTARIO'S NEW LIQUOR LAW

Toronto.—The following are the chief features of Ontario's new Liquor Control Act introduced in the Legislature by Premier Ferguson.

All liquor must be purchased through the Government agency.

Permits are of five classes, as follows:

Individual permit to a resident of Ontario.

Individual permit for any period not exceeding one month to a tourist or temporary resident.

Special permits to physicians, dentists, veterinarians and those in scientific or mechanical pursuits.

A special permit for ministers of the gospel for sacramental purposes.

The board has further authority to issue a special permit as authorized by the regulations for the sale of liquor for the special purpose named in the permit.

Druggists are not permitted to dispense liquor.

Breweries and distilleries can only sell in the province to the board under a permit from the board.

No liquor may be consumed in a public place. All liquor must be consumed in the residence or temporary home of the purchaser.

The commission will establish stores for the sale of any or all classes of liquor at such places as they may deem best in the public interest but no store may be established in any municipality where the Canada Temperance Act is in force.

Where a by-law under local option has prohibited the sale of liquor at the time of the coming into force of the Ontario Temperance Act in 1916.

Light beer, as defined by the act, and which is ordinarily known as 4.4 beer, may be sold in such places as the board designates, under permit from the board.

There shall be no public advertising of liquors.

No person, except with the permission of the board, shall have in his possession or in his premises any liquor not purchased from the board.

This section takes care of the private stock that any citizen may already have that is legally purchased and the board has absolute control over all the liquor that is found in Ontario.

The board may appoint a staff of inspectors, and this staff, in co-operation with the provincial police and local constables, shall co-operate in the enforcement of the law.

All prosecutions will be conducted under the Department of the Attorney-General by the province.

Any person found selling liquor in Ontario will be imprisoned for the first offence without the option of a fine. There is a great variety of penalties for other offences under the act.

Think Britain Favors War Craft Limitations

Officials at Washington Believe in Ultimate Success of Plan

Washington.—London and Tokyo news agencies clearly indicating that Great Britain and Japan will accept the Coolidge proposal for a conference with the United States at Geneva this summer on auxiliary war craft limitation are taken by officials here to mean that such a project ultimately will be brought about.

While there has not been much doubt as to the Japanese attitude toward such an arrangement British sentiment in the past generally has been against any limitation of anti-submarine craft as long as her continental neighbors refused to limit submarine construction and officials have looked to Great Britain to remove the greatest obstacle in the way of a three-power pact.

Public opinion throughout Great Britain as interpreted by that country's officials was described as demanding British acceptance of any plan for naval limitation.

Geneva despatches carried the additional information that Great Britain would insist on linking the three-power pact with France and Italy not exceeding certain tonnage in cruisers, submarines and torpedo boats.

London Worker Has Terrifying Experience

Was Swept Into Sewer by Rush of Water and Carried Many Blocks

London.—A workman engaged in sewer work in Chancery Lane had a terrifying experience when a sudden rush of water swept him into the sewer. From Chancery Lane he was whirled at great speed fifty feet down beneath Fleet Street and then into Ludgate Circus, where the sewer enters the subterranean river Fleet now in full flood.

He was passed along several other streets and finally was shot out into the river Thames, beneath Blackfriars Bridge, where he was rescued by river police. Beyond severe exhaustion he was not seriously hurt.

LOSS OF LIFE BY EARTHQUAKE IN CENTRAL JAPAN

Tokyo.—Thousands of refugees in Central Japan, shivering, hungry and in need of medical aid, struggling to bring order out of the chaos created by the earthquake, which already is known to have taken a toll of more than 2,000 lives.

The Home Office stated that its latest advice showed 2,275 persons were killed and 3,441 injured. Information received by Tokyo newspapers, however, indicated the total dead in the entire earthquake regions would number more than 3,000, while one newspaper estimated the toll would amount to 5,000, with 50,000 to 75,000 homeless.

The correspondent for the Tokyo Asahi Shinbun, who travelled through the stricken area, reported from Miyazu that the scenes in Miyazaki, where more than 1,000 persons were killed, and Ando, where heart-rending, he said, were exposed to snow and rain while only a small amount of relief was available.

Many relatives of victims of the quake were digging in the ruins of devastated villages seeking the bodies of fathers and mothers and sons and daughters. Funeral pyres were built and bodies cremated. Other inhabitants of the towns worked with police and soldiers in extricating bodies and giving aid to the injured.

Shallow graves were dug in the snow-covered ground, even small children assisting in the burial rites. Bits of half-burnt sticks, raked from the debris, were used as incense sticks for the offering of prayers for burial. Japanese and Christian preachers and priests were everywhere aiding and comforting widows and orphans.

The newspapers' correspondents generally reported that the lack of medical supplies and food was the greatest hardship for the refugees. Injured men and women along the broken roads asked every passer-by if he were a doctor, so great was their need for medical attention. Doctors and Red Cross nurses were coming into the region rapidly and it was expected they soon would be able to ameliorate the situation.

The roads throughout the region were reported literally stoned with the bodies of victims unclaimed by relatives and friends.

SAYS RAILWAY RATES IN WEST ARE REASONABLE

Ottawa.—That the great development in the grade process is itself strong and abundant proof that the transportation rates today are fair and reasonable for the service rendered, was the argument advanced by Frank J. Watson, freight traffic specialist at the general freight rates investigation before the Board of Railway Commissioners.

Mr. Watson took up the rate schedule as it affects livestock, and declared the railways have a deep interest in the development of the livestock industry, particularly in the West, but the rates today are lower, he claimed, than might be considered reasonable, having regard to all existing conditions, and they could not in any fair way be reduced further at the present time.

He discussed the general application of the Canadian freight classification to the entire Dominion, witnesses claimed they had been done since 1884, although the old Intercolonial Railway in the Maritime Provinces did not adopt this until 1892. This was a desirable condition, declared Mr. Watson, and if in any section of the Dominion there existed such conditions or conditions which can be recognized as justifying the differences of rate treatment, the railway board could adjust matters.

Witness added that in 1924 the C.N.R. voluntarily made a substantial reduction.

In Mr. Watson's opinion it was difficult to see how the situation could be remedied in much greater degree than it has been without setting aside every recognized rule and consideration applied to rate making and also the provisions of the Railway Act itself.

Will Remain Neutral

Britain Not Involved in Capture of Soviet Agents by Chinese

London.—The British Government has not been asked to intercede on behalf of Mme. Borodin, arrested by Northern Chinese forces near Shanghai, it was stated at the foreign office. Officials said Great Britain was not involved in the incident and it was doubtful whether the British policy of neutrality as between the Northern and Southern factions would permit of interference. It is believed here that the lives of the three Soviet couriers arrested with Mme. Borodin in the seizure of the steamship Panlat Lennia are not endangered.

The Soviet Government has sent two notes to Peking urging that the vessel be surrendered and that Mme. Borodin and the three other Russians arrested with her be released immediately.

Quebec Women Denied Franchise

Bill to Give Women Vote in Provincial Election Is Defeated

Quebec.—Women suffrage fared badly in the Quebec Legislative Assembly today, a bill to give them the vote in provincial elections being defeated on second reading, 51 to 13. The speeches were very brief, governing on either side some of the general reasons advocated in favor of women's votes and against. Victor Marchand, Liberal of Jacques Cartier, sponsored the bill. Both Thane and Mr. Sauve voted against; Hon. Honore Mercler, Hon. Athanas David, Hon. L. Lapierre and Hon. J. N. Dillion voted for the bill.

Blizzard Hits Colorado

Denver, Col.—A blizzard in Southern Colorado delayed trains, blocked highways and blasted hopes of Silverton and Durango, San Juan Valley mining communities, to reachable transportation lines severed a month ago by snow blizzards. Both towns depended on numbers for medical supplies until last week when an air-plane succeeded in reaching them.

Canada To Be Represented

Ottawa.—"It is the intention of the Government to be represented by a member of the cabinet at the opening of the Australian Parliament," Premier King stated in the House of Commons in answer to a question by W. G. McQuarrie (Conservative; New Westminster).

Stays at Saar Post

Paris.—It is reported here that Major George Washington Stuyvesant, Montreal, has consented to withdraw his resignation as president of the government of the Saar. The Saar Valley until another Canadian with a knowledge of French and German can be found to replace him.

BREAD!

See that there is a loaf in your basket every time it comes from the grocer's.

There is nothing else in that basket that contains the same amount of nourishment as bread.

Place a standing order for Bread—twice as many loaves as you are now ordering.

It will well repay you to.
Bread is your Best Food—Eat more of it.
